Six Taste Partners With Community Organizations For Holiday Season
Portion of Tour Proceeds Donated to Charity

LOS ANGELES, CA – Eleven months out of the year, Six Taste, the largest food tour company in Los Angeles, takes foodies into some of the most treasured neighborhoods of the city to explore culture and community through food. For the month of December, Six Taste is partnering up with Make-A-Wish Foundation® of Greater Los Angeles and the Thai Community Development Center.

If you live in the Greater Los Angeles area, sign up for Make-A-Wish Foundation's newsletter for more information on the special partnership and receive the promo code. Twenty percent (20%) of net ticket purchased through them will go towards helping the Make-A-Wish Foundation fulfill more wishes. Visit www.wishla.org to sign up for their newsletter.

Six Taste will also donate twenty percent (20%) of proceeds from Thai Town tours purchased between December 1st and December 31st using the promo code [TTGIFT2011] to the Thai Community Development Center. The Thai CDC is a non-profit dedicated to advancing the social and economic well-being of low and moderate income Thais and other ethnic communities in the greater Los Angeles area. Six Taste founder, Jeff Okita says it's important to work with groups such as Thai CDC because "now, more than ever, is it important to support non-profit organizations that we feel are continuing to make a positive impact in Los Angeles communities."

Additionally, Six Taste has a special holiday promotion. Use the promo code [HOLIDAY2011] to receive $5 off when you book any of their regular food tours. To learn more about this special visit www.sixtaste.com/specials.php.

About Six Taste

Six Taste is the largest food tour company in Los Angeles and offers walking food tours through some of LA's most dynamic neighborhoods each week. USC Alumni Jeff Okita and Alex Tao founded the company in 2009 to create an outlet for their passion for LA and good food. Six Taste works with over 70 of the best eateries in L.A., offering 50+ private and public tours a month, as well as regularly hosting food-themed events.
